

Macau SIM Cards

My Experience with Macau SIM Cards

During my weekend visit to Macau in 2023, I bought a China Telecom Easy+ SIM Macau Card. After arriving in Guangzhou, I found it still worked perfectly, helping me learn English and download many foreign apps. It felt like I was still in Macau. I highly recommend it. Later, I tried the Blue Macau SIM Card, which was also good. Here's a quick overview of both:

---

China Telecom Easy+ SIM Card

Easy to Use Anytime!

Key Points

- No deposit; automatic activation for Mainland China, Macau, and Hong Kong.
- No contract or termination fee; ready to use upon purchase.
- Macau number included; optional Mainland China number for dual-number use.
- Top up online or with value cards.

Daily Fee Options

- $2/day: 4GB high-speed, then unlimited at reduced speed; 5,000 minutes local calls.
- $3/day: 10GB high-speed, then unlimited at reduced speed; 5,000 minutes local calls.
- $5/day: 20GB high-speed, then unlimited at reduced speed; 5,000 minutes local calls.

Extras

- Data usage in Hong Kong: $0.1/MB.
  - Change plans anytime by sending a text message.
-

Blue Macau SIM Card

Key Points

- No monthly rent; pay as you use.
- Local calls: 0.39 MOP/minute; Internet: 0.1 MOP/MB; SMS: 1 MOP/message.
- Optional no-expiry data packages: 10GB for 98 MOP, 20GB for 188 MOP, 40GB for 288 MOP.
- Top up every 180 days to keep active.

Compatible Devices

- Requires a 4G full network or China Telecom supported phone.

For more information, visit China Telecom Macau.

---

You can also find these on Taobao: